Concurso Especial para acesso ao Ciclo de Estudos Integrado conducente ao grau de Mestre em Medicina da Universidade da Beira Interior

Provas de Conhecimentos Aptidões Cognitivas Conhecimentos de Língua Inglesa

INFORMAÇÕES GERAIS

De acordo com o disposto no nº 2 do artigo 5º do Regulamento do Concurso Especial a que se refere o Despacho nº14/2007, alterado pelo Despacho nº 13/R/2011 de 11 de Abril, um dos critérios de seriação do contingente a que se refere o nº 1.2 do artigo 3º para o ciclo de estudos integrado conducente ao grau de mestre em medicina, é a classificação obtida nas provas de conhecimentos que incluem uma prova de aptidões cognitivas de natureza escrita que avalia o raciocínio numérico, o raciocínio verbal e o raciocínio abstrato e uma prova de conhecimentos de língua inglesa.

Aptidões cognitivas

- Raciocínio Abstrato Avalia a capacidade para inferir relações entre diferentes informações, utilizando o raciocínio dedutivo e indutivo.
- Raciocínio Numérico Avalia a capacidade para raciocinar sobre problemas numéricos.
- Raciocínio Verbal Avalia a capacidade para interpretar informação escrita e tirar conclusões lógicas.

A avaliação de aptidões terá uma duração aproximada de 2h30m. Cada secção será aplicada separadamente e tem um tempo de realização pré-definido. Todas as secções têm um formato de resposta múltipla, em que apenas uma das alternativas está correta. As respostas incorretas não são penalizadas.

Este tipo de provas pretende avaliar a compreensão verbal e o raciocínio (numérico e abstrato), aptidões que não dependem de conhecimentos, pelo que não é esperado qualquer tipo de treino. Ainda assim, pode ser importante para os candidatos familiarizarem-se com o tipo de tarefas que terão de realizar, razão pela qual poderão consultar o seguinte endereço onde encontrarão exemplos do tipo de exercícios que terão de resolver: <http://www.ukcat.ac.uk/preparation/practice-test/>.

Conhecimentos de língua Inglesa

Para a avaliação dos conhecimentos da língua Inglesa será utilizado o TOEIC® - Test Of English for International Communication. O TOEIC® avalia as competências de Inglês necessárias para comunicar em situações profissionais internacionais. Contudo, o conteúdo da prova não requer conhecimentos técnicos especializados.

Em contexto académico o TOEIC® é usado em todo o mundo por escolas de gestão e engenharia, Universidades, Institutos Politécnicos, escolas de línguas, etc., com o objetivo, entre outros, de verificar o nível de Inglês dos candidatos e de validar as competências dos estudantes na língua inglesa, através de um certificado reconhecido internacionalmente.

É um teste de escolha múltipla, composto por 200 questões divididas em 2 secções:

- Compreensão Oral (Listening Section) Dividida em 4 partes e composta por 100 questões, que são aplicadas com a ajuda um CD (audio). Esta secção tem a duração aproximada de 45 minutos. Avalia em que medida o sujeito avaliado compreende o Inglês falado.
- Compreensão Escrita (Reading Section) Dividida em 3 partes e composta por 100 questões. Esta secção tem a duração de 75 minutos. Avalia em que medida o sujeito compreende o Inglês escrito.

Em anexo, inclui-se o Caderno do Examinando (Examinee Handbook) onde constam todas as informações relativas à prova, bem como uma tabela de equivalências entre os resultados do TOEIC® e os níveis do Quadro Europeu Comum de Referência para as Línguas (Common European Framework of Reference for Languages).

Existem livros de preparação para a prova. A CAPMAN.ES, representante ibérica do editor da prova, sugere como preparação para do TOEIC® o pacote TARGET SCORE STUDENT'S PACK que inclui um livro e 3 CD ROM com cadernos de teste reais, centrado no Inglês de Negócios para níveis superiores aos 550 pontos TOEIC® (nível B1 do Quadro Europeu Comum de Referência para as Línguas). Cada uma das 12 unidades centra-se em um dos principais temas recorrentes da prova, nomeadamente: comunicação, vendas, ambiente de trabalho, recursos humanos e temas da sociedade em geral. Em Portugal, um dos revendedores do livro é a CEGOC –TEA, Lda.

About the TOEIC Test

The TOEIC (Test of English for International Communication) test is an English-language proficiency test for people whose native language is not English. It measures the everyday English skills of people working in an international environment. The scores indicate how well people can communicate in English with others in business, commerce, and industry. The test does not require specialized knowledge or vocabulary beyond that of a person who uses English in everyday work activities.

TOEIC Test Format

The TOEIC test is a two-hour multiple-choice test that consists of 200 questions divided into two sections:

- Listening Section: The Listening section tests how well you understand spoken English. It consists of four parts and contains 100 questions administered by audiocassette or CD. You will be asked to answer questions based on a variety of statements, questions, conversations, and talks recorded in English. Total time: approximately 45 minutes.

- Reading Section: The Reading section includes three parts, testing how well you understand written English. You will read a variety of materials and respond at your own pace to 100 questions based on the content of the materials provided to you. Total time: 75 minutes.

Following several years of ETS research, the TOEIC test has recently been redesigned. The new test features the same test time (2 hours; 45 minutes for Listening and 75 minutes for Reading), the same paper and pencil administration, and the same range of difficulty as the previous test. The score scale is also the same, and scores can be compared across both versions of the test. The following charts outline the major changes in the test:

When and where can I take the TOEIC test?

The TOEIC test is available throughout the world. Testing can be arranged through corporations or other organizations that ask employees or job applicants to take the TOEIC test. In addition, many language-training programs and schools offer TOEIC testing. If testing has not been arranged through your organization, you can contact your local ETS Preferred Vendor to find out when and where you can take the test.

How often can I take the TOEIC test?

Twenty-eight days should lapse between each TOEIC test. If you take the test more than once every twenty-eight days, your test will not be scored and you will not receive a refund. You will need to pay again to retake the test once twenty-eight days have lapsed. Please contact your local ETS Preferred Vendor.

How much does the TOEIC test cost?

TOEIC prices vary worldwide. To inquire about pricing in your area, contact your local ETS Preferred Vendor.

What score do I need to “pass” the TOEIC test?

The TOEIC test is not the kind of test that you “pass” or “fail.” Not every job or task requires the same level of English proficiency. Because it was developed specifically to meet the needs of the workplace, the TOEIC test measures many levels of ability. It enables test takers to demonstrate what they currently can accomplish in English. The single, continuous scale also makes it possible for learners to set attainable goals and to measure their progress as their English improves.

Many companies use the TOEIC test to set their own score standards based on the levels of English necessary to carry out particular responsibilities. Your company may require employees to have a minimum TOEIC score due to the corresponding level of English that is needed on the job. Many companies offer English-language training to help their employees reach target TOEIC scores, which reflect specific levels of proficiency based on professional need.

From what kind of contexts are the TOEIC test questions drawn?

These are some examples of the settings, situations, and formats you may find in TOEIC test questions:

- Corporate Development: research, product development
- Dining Out: business and informal lunches, banquets, receptions, restaurant reservations
- Entertainment: cinema, theater, music, art, exhibitions, museums, media
- Finance and Budgeting: banking, investments, taxes, accounting, billing
- General Business: contracts, negotiations, mergers, marketing, sales, warranties, business planning, conferences, labor relations
- Health: medical insurance, visiting doctors, dentists, clinics, hospitals
- Housing/Corporate Property: construction, specifications, buying and renting, electric and gas services
- Manufacturing: assembly lines, plant management, quality control
- Offices: board meetings, committees, letters, memoranda, telephone, fax and e-mail messages, office equipment and furniture, office procedures
- Personnel: recruiting, hiring, retiring, salaries, promotions, job applications, job advertisements, pensions, awards
- Purchasing: shopping, ordering supplies, shipping, invoices
- Technical Areas: electronics, technology, computers, laboratories and related equipment, technical specifications
- Travel: trains, airplanes, taxis, buses, ships, ferries, tickets, schedules, station and airport announcements, car rentals, hotels, reservations, delays and cancellations

If I have a disability, can I still take the TOEIC test?

The TOEIC program and its local ETS Preferred Vendors, in response to requests from individuals with disabilities, will make special arrangements with test center supervisors to administer the TOEIC test with accommodations. Among the accommodations that can be provided are extended testing time, breaks, a test reader, audio testing, large print, braille and non-audio (without oral stimulus) versions of the test, or other aids customarily used by the test taker. All requests for accommodations must be approved in accordance with TOEIC program policies and procedures. These procedures are located on the website at www.ets.org/toEIC.

Preparing to Take the TOEIC Test

How To Get Ready To Take the TOEIC Test

The TOEIC test is not based on the content of any particular English course but rather on your English-language proficiency—your overall ability to use English. Improvement in proficiency may take some time and is generally achieved through a combination of practice and study. The TOEIC test does not test business knowledge, and you are not required to know specialized business and technical vocabulary beyond what is used in everyday work activities.

Before taking the TOEIC test, there are several things you can do to prepare for the test and improve your English proficiency:

- Become familiar with the test format and know how to mark your answers on the answer sheet. You can then focus your attention on the test questions themselves. Carefully review the test directions and the sample questions on pages 8–13 and the sample answer sheet and sample Background Questionnaire on pages 15–18.
- Immerse yourself in the language as frequently as possible and in as many ways as possible if it has been some time since you have had contact with English. Reading, watching TV and videos, listening to recordings, taking an English course, and speaking with friends and colleagues are some of the ways to practice English.
- Web Resource Guide
The official TOEIC website has many resources you may find helpful to familiarize yourself with the test:
 - test preparation material
 - scoring information
 - frequently asked questions (FAQs)

During the Test

- Work quickly and carefully.
- Do not spend too much time on any one question.
- Mark your answers on your answer sheet and not in the test book.
- Mark only one answer for each question. If you mark more than one answer, that question will be counted wrong—even if one of the answers you marked is correct.
- You will receive credit only for answers marked in the circles on the answer sheet. Your score will be based on the number of questions you answer correctly. There is no penalty for guessing.
- Try to answer every question to the best of your ability.
- Pay close attention to the time during the Reading section of the test. In the Reading section (75 minutes) you have to pace yourself, so work quickly and if you do not know the answer to a question, come back to it later.
- You may not use note paper.

Identification Requirements

All test takers must read Part 1. Depending on whether you will be taking the test within or outside your country of citizenship, you must also read either Part 2 or Part 3, as appropriate.

Part 1: Information for All Test Takers

- You must have acceptable and valid ID with a signature and photograph to be admitted to a test center. Identification requirements are strictly enforced. It is your responsibility to read and understand the instructions and requirements.
- If you arrive at the test center without the required identification, the test administrator will not admit you, you cannot take the test, and you forfeit your test fee.

When registering for the test, you must use exactly the same name that appears on the primary identification document you will present at the test center. Make sure to provide your entire first (given name) and entire surname (family name). Do not register under a nickname. If the name shown on your primary identification does not match the name used at registration, you will not be permitted to take the test.

- Only misspellings of your name can be corrected at check-in—name changes will not be made. If your name has changed for any reason, including marriage, you must still present primary identification in the name under which you registered, or you will not be permitted to take the test.
- If the test center administrator questions the ID you present, you will be required to present additional proof of identity.
- If positive confirmation cannot be made, you may be refused admission to the test center and forfeit your test fee. Admittance to the test center does not imply that your form of identification is valid or that your scores will be reported.

Test center personnel will check your identification before assigning you a seat at the test center. The administrator will check your signature to verify that you are the person in your photo identification.

Acceptable Primary Identification Documents

- Passport with photograph and signature
- Driver's license with photograph and signature
- State identification with photograph and signature
- National identification with photograph and signature
- Military identification with photograph and signature

Acceptable Secondary Identification Documents

If your primary identification is missing either a photograph or signature, you must present one of the following secondary IDs that can be used to meet the photograph or signature requirement; you must present one of the following secondary IDs in addition to your primary ID. Secondary IDs that can be used to meet the photograph or signature requirements are:

- A government-issued identification document that has not expired including, but not limited to, a passport, driver's license, state identification, national identification, or military identification. (There are some exceptions; see "Unacceptable Identification Documents" below.)
- Student ID

Unacceptable Identification Documents

- Any expired ID
- Draft classification card
- Credit card of any kind
- Social Security card
- Learner's permit or any temporary identification document
- International driver's license
- International student ID
- Notary-prepared letter or document
- Employee identification card

If you cannot meet the specified ID requirements or if you have questions about ID, please contact your local ETS Preferred Vendor before registering for the test.

Part 2: If Testing WITHIN Your Country of Citizenship

Only one form of primary ID is needed if your primary ID document contains a photograph and signature. Please see the list of acceptable primary ID documents on this page. However, if the test administrator has any concerns about the primary ID document, you will be required to present a secondary ID from the list above.

If your primary ID does not contain your signature, you must either sign the document or present an additional ID from the list of secondary identification documents. The secondary ID cannot be expired and must contain a recent, recognizable photograph and your signature.

Part 3: If Testing OUTSIDE Your Country of Citizenship

You must present your passport as your primary identification document (citizens of European and Schengen Zone countries, see special requirements on this page). If you do not meet this requirement, your test scores may not be reported.

If your passport is not written in English-language letters, you must also present an additional ID from the list of secondary identification documents (see Part 1 on page 5) that contains a recent, recognizable photograph and is in English.

If your passport does not contain your signature, you must either sign your passport or present an additional ID from the list of secondary identification documents (see Part 1 on page 5).

European Union/Schengen Zone Countries

If you are taking the test within a European Union or Schengen Zone country outside your own, you may use your valid national or European identity card if you have one. The card you present must contain a recent, recognizable photograph, your date of birth, and your signature. If your form of identification is not in English-language letters and the test administrator cannot read the language in which it is written, you may not be allowed to test. If your official ID does not contain your signature, you must present an additional document from the list of secondary identification documents (see Part 1 on page 5) that does contain your signature.

If a test taker's scores are canceled, they will not be reported, and the test taker will receive notification from ETS or the ETS Preferred Vendor. Test fees will not be refunded.

Sample Questions

With 200 questions, the TOEIC test measures a wide range of English proficiency. The following sample questions do not indicate the full range of difficulty you will find in an actual TOEIC test.

General Directions

The following general directions are taken directly from the test book. After the general directions are specific directions for each part of the test, along with sample questions for each of the parts.

This test is designed to measure your English-language ability. The test is divided into two sections: Listening and Reading.

You must mark all of your answers on the separate answer sheet. For each question, you should select the best answer from the answer choices given. Then, on your answer sheet, you should find the number of the question and fill in the space that corresponds to the letter of the answer that you have selected. If you decide to change an answer, completely erase your old answer and then mark your new answer.

Section I: Listening

In the Listening test, you will be asked to demonstrate how well you understand spoken English. The entire Listening test will last approximately 45 minutes. There are four parts, and directions are given for each part. You must mark your answers on the separate answer sheet. Do not write your answers in your test book.

Part I: Photographs

Directions: For each question in this part, you will hear four statements about a picture in your test book. When you hear the statements, you must select the one statement that best describes what you see in the picture. Then find the number of the question on your answer sheet and mark your answer. The statements will not be printed in your test book and will be spoken only one time.

Background Questionnaire

The TOEIC Background Questionnaire asks about your educational, work-related, English-language, and TOEIC test-taking experience. Your responses to the questionnaire enable your organization to learn more about the backgrounds of people who take the test and some of the factors that affect TOEIC scores and improvement in English. Your responses to the questionnaire are kept confidential and do not in any way affect your TOEIC scores. We encourage you to answer all of the questions. A sample of the questionnaire is included on pages 15 and 16.

Answer Sheet

A sample of the answer sheet appears on pages 17 and 18 of the TOEIC Examinee Handbook.

Accent Marks

If your name (family name and first name) is written with any accent marks, you should complete the top half of section 1 on side 1 of the answer sheet. Above the boxes where you will write your name, there is an area that contains accent marks. You should fill in the circle that corresponds to the accent mark above each letter that contains an accent.

Group Code

Your test administrator may ask you to enter a number on side 2, section 10 of the answer sheet. The purpose of this group code is to enable TOEIC clients to keep track of the performance of a group of people who take the TOEIC test two or more times as part of a specific English-language training program. The test administrator will give you the appropriate number to enter in the group code section if your organization has asked for this option.

Custom Codes

Your test administrator may ask you to enter a number or numbers on side 2, section 12 of the answer sheet. The purpose of custom codes is to keep track of the performance of certain TOEIC test takers or groups of test takers. The test administrator will give you the appropriate number or numbers to enter in the custom codes section if your organization has asked for this option.

Before the actual test begins, if you have any questions about the TOEIC Background Questionnaire and answer sheet, please ask your test administrator.

Read the choices below each question and select the one best answer. Fill in only one answer for each question.

TOEIC Test Scores

Test Fairness and Score Use

The ETS TOEIC Program and its authorized local ETS Preferred Vendors have taken steps to ensure, to the extent possible, that tests and test scores are fair for all test takers, regardless of gender, age, nationality, and test taker industry background.

Interpreting Scores

The TOEIC test scores you will receive are determined by the number of questions you answer correctly. There is no penalty for wrong answers. The number of correct responses on each section, Listening and Reading, is converted to a number on a scale of 5 to 495. The statistical procedure used to convert scores to a common scale for each section seeks to ensure that TOEIC Listening and Reading scores obtained on different administration dates mean the same thing in terms of the level of English proficiency indicated.

If you were to take several versions of the test within a short period of time, you would obtain a number of scores that center around an average value known as your “true” score. Two-thirds of the time, your Listening score would be within 25 points of your true score on the Listening section, and your Reading score would be within 25 points of your true score on the Reading section.

Score Report

The score report will provide you with your score on each section of the test. A description of the English-language ability typical of test takers around your level can be found on our website, www.ets.org/toEIC.

If you take the test through your employer or sponsoring organization, your scores are provided to that organization. It is the responsibility of your employer or organization to provide you with a score report. If you take the test independently, you will receive your score report directly from the local ETS Preferred Vendors.

In addition to the section scaled scores, the redesigned TOEIC Score Report provides extra score information.

Release of Test Results

With some exceptions, depending on local conditions, the TOEIC Score Report is sent to test takers within seven business days.

Scaled Scores

The new score report provides Listening, Reading, and Total scaled scores. The Total scaled score is derived from adding the two section scaled scores together.

Score Proficiency Descriptions

The new score report provides a description of the English-language abilities typical of test takers scoring at around a particular scaled score level. Because of limited space in the score report, only statements of strength are provided in the report. There are three possible descriptions for the Listening section and four possible descriptions for the Reading section. A complete table of these descriptions is available on the ETS website, www.ets.org/toEIC. The proficiency descriptors were developed based on a Scaled Anchoring Study conducted at ETS in the summer of 2005. A copy of the Scaled Anchoring Study can be provided to you by your local ETS Preferred Vendor.

Ability Measured

The test taker’s score report also includes the percentage of questions the test taker answered correctly for specific abilities measured. The percentage can be compared with the percentage score of test takers who have taken the same TOEIC test form.

Percentile Rank

The new score report provides percentile ranks for section scaled scores. A percentile rank score refers to the percentage of the TOEIC Secure Program population in the most recent three years who score below a particular scaled score. The percentile rank table is calculated based on a pool of 3-year test takers and is updated and made available on the ETS website, www.ets.org/toEIC, every May. For example, the percentile rank table of May 2006 is calculated based on test takers from January 2003 to December 2005. The percentile rank table of May 2007 is calculated based on test takers from January 2004 to December 2006.

Reliability

Reliability is defined as the proportion of observed score variance that is due to true score variance. It is an indicator of the extent to which test scores will be consistent across different conditions of administration and/or administration of alternate forms of a test. The type of reliability used in the TOEIC Listening and Reading test is reported as an internal consistency measure using the KR-20 reliability index. The KR-20 reliability index assesses the extent to which all items measure the same construct. The more homogeneous the test items, the more consistently the test takers will perform. The reliability of the TOEIC Listening and Reading section scores across all forms from our norming samples has been approximately 0.90 and up.

Standard Error of Measurement (SEM)

Errors of measurement occur when a test taker performs differently on one occasion or test form than on another for reasons that may or may not be related to the purpose of the test. A person may try harder, be more (or less) tired or anxious compared to some other occasion, have greater familiarity with the content of questions on one test form than on another test form, or simply guess more questions correctly on one occasion than on another. These reasons for inconsistency are generally referred to as errors of measurement. The Standard Error of Measurement (SEM) is an estimate of average difference between true scores and obtained test scores, and is about 25 scaled score points for each of the TOEIC Listening and Reading sections. A test taker's true score could be estimated by ± 25 scaled score points around the test score obtained from one administration. For example, if you obtain a scaled score of 300 on the TOEIC Listening section, 68% of the time your true score will fluctuate between approximately 275 and 325.

Rescore Requests

If you feel that your scores are not an accurate reflection of your ability in English, you should contact your ETS Preferred Vendor within six months of the test date. The ETS Preferred Vendor will rescore your answer sheet and will give you a second score report. If a discrepancy is found between the first score report and the second one, the ETS Preferred Vendor will pay for the rescoring of your answer sheet. However, if a discrepancy is not found, you may be charged a small fee for rescoring costs.

Score Cancellations

Only ETS and the local ETS Preferred Vendor reserve the right to take all action—including, but not limited to, barring a test taker from future testing and/or canceling a test taker's scores—for failure to comply with test administration regulations or the test administrator/supervisor's directions. If a test taker's scores are canceled, they will not be reported, and the test taker will receive notification from ETS or the ETS Preferred Vendor. Test fees will not be refunded.

Testing Irregularities

“Testing irregularities” refers to irregularities in connection with the administration of a test, such as equipment failure, improper access to test content by individuals or groups of test takers, and other disruptions of test administration (natural disasters and other emergencies). When testing irregularities occur, ETS and its local ETS Preferred Vendors give affected test takers the opportunity to take the test again as soon as possible without charge.

Repeat Test Takers

If you take another version of the TOEIC test, you will probably obtain slightly different scores from those you received the first time. A question like this usually arises, “How big of a difference do I need to get between two Listening scores or between two Reading scores before I can say that there is a real difference in my level of proficiency?” This question involves two independent tests given at two different times. The error of measurement associated with the score obtained from one administration is called the Standard Error of Measurement (SEM). The errors of measurement associated with two administrations are called the Standard Error of Difference (SE_{diff}). The SE_{diff} for each of the TOEIC Listening and Reading sections is about 35 scaled score points.

If a person began training with a Listening score of 300 and, following training, received a score of 340 on a different test form, has that test taker really improved in Listening or was this increase just a statistical fluke? To determine whether this was a true increase in the TOEIC score, the test taker would construct a band of $\pm 1 SE_{diff}$, or ± 35 points, around the obtained scores. In this case, the test taker has truly improved because the post-training score fell outside of the SE_{diff} (i.e., 265-335). Using this band, we can say with 68% confidence that the test taker has truly increased his or her proficiency level between the two tests.

TOEIC Validity

Evidence that the TOEIC measures English-language proficiency comes first of all from the careful way in which language testing experts design and assemble the test so as to include a variety of important English-language tasks. An additional kind of evidence that has proven useful in establishing the meaning, or validity, of TOEIC scores has come from test takers themselves in the form of self-assessments of their own language skills. Self-assessments have been shown to be valid in a variety of contexts, especially in the assessment of language skills. TOEIC scores have shown moderately strong correlations (.40s and .50s) with test taker self-reports of their own ability to accomplish certain English-language tasks such as the following:

Reading	Listening
Reading office memoranda	Understanding directions on how to get to a nearby location
Reading English to translate text into one's own language	Taking a telephone message for a co-worker
Reading and understanding instructions	Understanding an extended debate on a complex topic

Speaking	Writing
Telephoning a company to place an order for an item	Writing a list of items to take on a weekend trip
Describing what a friend looks like	Writing a 5-page formal report on a project one worked on
Arguing against someone's opinion	Writing a letter introducing oneself and describing qualifications

Test Score Data Retention

To provide you and your employer with a historical summary of your scores, scores will be kept on file and reported for two years from the test date.

Policy and Guidelines for the Use of TOEIC Scores

Introduction

These guidelines are designed to provide information about the appropriate use of TOEIC test scores for corporations or schools that use the scores in making hiring, evaluation, and career promotion decisions, as well as school-related decisions. They are also intended to protect test takers from unfair decisions that may result from inappropriate uses of scores. Adherence to the guidelines is important.

The TOEIC tests are designed to assess English-language proficiency relevant to today's international market. As measures with known statistical properties and high quality technical characteristics, the scores from these tests, when used properly, can improve the hiring, evaluation, and career promotion decision processes of local and multinational corporations, and other organizations where English communication skills are critical job requirements.

As more and more students go to colleges to acquire job skills in the global marketplace, schools are also increasingly using TOEIC scores to evaluate student proficiency in English.

The TOEIC Program and its local ETS Preferred Vendors have a particular obligation to inform users of the appropriate uses of TOEIC scores and to identify and try to rectify instances of misuse.

To this end, the following policies and guidelines are available to all TOEIC test takers, institutions, and organizations that are recipients of TOEIC scores.

Policies

In recognition of their obligation to ensure the appropriate use of TOEIC scores, the TOEIC Program and its local ETS Preferred Vendors developed policies designed to make score reports available only to approved recipients, to protect the confidentiality of test takers' scores, and to follow up on cases of possible misuse of scores. The policies are discussed below.

Confidentiality. TOEIC scores, whether for an individual or aggregated for an institution, are confidential and can be released only by authorization of the individual or institution or by compulsion of legal process.

We recognize test takers' rights to privacy with regard to information that is stored in data or research files held by Educational Testing Service and local ETS Preferred Vendors and our responsibility to protect test takers from unauthorized disclosure of the information.

Encouragement of appropriate use and investigation of reported misuse. All organizational users of TOEIC scores have an obligation to use the scores in accordance with the guidelines that follow (i.e., using multiple criteria, accepting only official TOEIC scores, etc.). Organizations have a responsibility to ensure that all individuals using TOEIC scores are aware of these guidelines and to monitor the use of the scores, correcting instances of misuse when they are identified. The TOEIC Program and local ETS Preferred Vendors are available to assist institutions in resolving score-misuse issues.

Guidelines

• Use Multiple Criteria

Regardless of the decision to be made, multiple sources of information should be used to ensure fairness and to balance the limitations of any single measure of knowledge, skills, or abilities. These sources may include graduate or undergraduate grade point average, years of experience in the target position, and recommendations from past supervisors and colleagues. When used in conjunction with other criteria, TOEIC scores can be a powerful tool in making hiring, evaluation, promotion, or school-related decisions.

• Accept Only Official TOEIC Score Reports

The only official reports of TOEIC scores are those issued by ETS or by the local ETS Preferred Vendor. If an organization administers a TOEIC test internally, with ETS knowledge and approval, it can obtain and keep score reports of that test. Scores obtained from other sources should not be accepted. If there is a question about the authenticity of a score report, the question should be referred to the local ETS Preferred Vendor, who will then verify the accuracy of the scores and whether an official report was issued.

• Maintain Confidentiality of TOEIC Scores

All individuals who have access to TOEIC scores should be aware of the confidential nature of the scores and agree to maintain their confidentiality. Policies should be developed and implemented to ensure that confidentiality is maintained.

Normally Appropriate Uses and Misuses of TOEIC Scores

The suitability of a TOEIC test for a particular use should be explicitly examined before using test scores for that purpose. The list of appropriate uses of TOEIC scores that follows is based on the policies and guidelines outlined on this page. The list is meant to be illustrative, not exhaustive, in nature.

There may be other appropriate uses of TOEIC scores, but any uses other than those listed below should be discussed in advance with TOEIC Program staff and its local ETS Preferred Vendors to determine their appropriateness.

If a use other than those appropriate uses listed below is contemplated, it will be important for the user to validate the use of scores for that purpose. The TOEIC Program staff and its local ETS Preferred Vendors will provide advice on the design of such validity studies.

Appropriate Uses

Provided all applicable guidelines are followed, TOEIC scores are suitable for the uses described below.

- Hiring of applicants for an open position within a corporation or organization where workplace/everyday-life English is a required job skill
- Placement of applicants or candidates within a corporation or organization where workplace/everyday-life English is a required job skill
- Promotion of candidates within a corporation or organization where workplace/everyday-life English is a required job skill
- Measurement of workplace/everyday-life English proficiency levels of students in schools
- Measurement of individuals' progress in workplace/everyday-life English proficiency levels over time

Misuse

Uses of the test other than those listed in the Appropriate Uses section should be avoided unless authorized by ETS or the ETS Preferred Vendor.

Questions 156-159 refer to the following article.

The new economy has created great business opportunities as well as great turmoil. Not since the Industrial Revolution have the stakes of dealing with change been so high. Most traditional organizations have accepted, in theory at least, that they must make major changes. Even large new companies recognize that they need to manage the changes associated with rapid entrepreneurial growth. Despite some individual successes, however, this remains difficult, and few companies manage the process as well as they would like. Most companies have begun by installing new technology, downsizing, restructuring, or trying to change corporate culture, and most have had low success rates. About 70 percent of all change initiatives fail.

The reason for most of these failures is that in their rush to change their organizations, managers become mesmerized by all the different, and sometimes conflicting, advice they receive about why companies should change, what they should try to accomplish, and how they should do it. The result is that they lose focus and fail to consider what would work best for their own company. To improve the odds of success, it is imperative that executives understand the nature and process of corporate change much better.

Most companies use a mix of both hard and soft change strategies. Hard change results in drastic layoffs, downsizing, and restructuring. Soft change is based on internal organizational changes and the gradual development of a new corporate culture through individual and organization learning. Both strategies may be successful, but it is difficult to combine them effectively. Companies that are able to do this can reap significant payoffs in productivity and profitability.

156. What is the article mainly about?
- (A) Corporate marketing plans
 - (B) New developments in technology
 - (C) Ways for companies to increase profits
 - (D) How companies try to adapt to new conditions
157. The word “manage” in paragraph 1, line 6, is closest in meaning to
- (A) correct
 - (B) attract
 - (C) handle
 - (D) regulate
158. According to the article, why do so many attempts to change fail?
- (A) Soft change and hard change are different.
 - (B) Executives are interested only in profits.
 - (C) The best methods are often not clear.
 - (D) Employees usually resist change.
159. What is soft change based on?
- (A) Changes in the corporate culture
 - (B) Reductions in company size
 - (C) Relocating businesses
 - (D) Financial markets

To: Katharine Morandi
From: Ujjwal Ahmed, Optimum Software Company
Subject: Yesterday's meeting

Dear Katharine,

Thank you for taking the time to get together with us yesterday. Everyone on our team felt that it was a productive meeting. We have a better understanding of your project's needs now, and we've started looking at ways to adapt our software to meet your requirements.

While the basic function of the software is well suited to the project overall, as discussed, we will explore ways to adapt it to the needs of the different departments at Advantage that will be using it. This will incur some additional cost, as we indicated—we'll provide details about that at our next meeting, once our engineers have assessed the changes that will need to be made.

I've asked Peter Bodell to prepare a document for you that indicates when the Training and Consulting Department could start providing services to you. He'll send this information to you directly—since you've worked with him in the past, it seems the most efficient way to go.

As agreed, let's set up a meeting for the week of November 26 by which time our engineers will be able to outline their approaches to your departmental needs, and we'll have the information we need to put together a contract.

In the meantime, please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Regards,
Ujjwal

General Directions

This test is designed to measure your English language ability. The test is divided into two sections: Listening and Reading.

You must mark all of your answers on the separate answer sheet. For each question, you should select the best answer from the answer choices given. Then, on your answer sheet, you should find the number of the question and fill in the space that corresponds to the letter of the answer that you have selected. If you decide to change an answer, completely erase your old answer and then mark your new answer.
